Bracelet size guide

Measure the wrist, then add the ease you like. Print at 100% to use the strip.

1. Measure the wrist

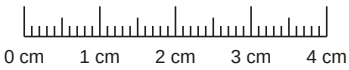

Cut out the strip on page 2 and wrap it around the wrist just below the wrist bone, snug against the skin. Read the number where it overlaps. No printer? A tape measure or a piece of string and a ruler work the same way.

2. Add the ease you prefer

Fit	Add to wrist	Wrist 15 cm becomes
Snug (tennis bracelets)	+1.0 cm	16 cm
Classic (most pieces)	+1.5 to 2 cm	17 cm
Loose (chains, charms)	+2.5 cm	17.5 cm

3. Our standard lengths

16 cm · 17 cm · 18 cm · 18.5 cm. Tennis bracelets are made to the centimetre on request, and every bracelet has a 1 cm extension link available at no cost. Bangles use a different method: see the bangle guide.

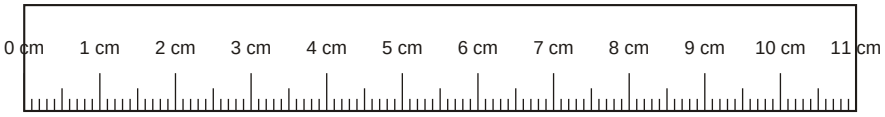

Check the scale: this bar must measure exactly 40 mm. If it does not, print again at 100% (no 'fit to page').

Wrist strip

Cut along the outline. Printed at true size; check the 40 mm bar on page 1.

Segment A: start here, wrap, read where the end meets the strip

Segment B: tape to the end of A for wrists over 11 cm (join the 11 cm marks)
